Directions: This scoring sheet is to be used in conjunction with the Self-Advocacy Skills Checklist<sup>1</sup>, which has been completed by the student. The checklist contains skills that a student with a hearing loss should develop during secondary school in preparation for transition to post-secondary study and work. This form may be completed over three sessions. Through discussions with the student, the teacher should make a decision about the level of competency that the student has demonstrated (0, 1, 2 or 3). Skills not yet mastered can be used by the student and the teacher to contribute to the self-advocacy goals of the Individualised Learning Plan (ILP) and form a component of the learning program. Skills should be reevaluated at least annually. Follow the scoring directions at the bottom to obtain an overall performance level. A mastery level of 90-100% indicates your student's self-advocacy skills are functioning at the proficient level.
